

Web Space

OIT provides a LAMP web serving architecture for all campus community members. Files are served from Active Directory network file shares such as your U drive and the S drive. All faculty, staff, and student are eligible to use this service.

Also, OIT provides access to a public access mysql database environment. Each user is permitted to create a single database, with an unlimited number of tables. Users are asked to respect other users of the system by not overloading the database with extreme volumes of content or continually running ...
